Communications Counsel • Skype • Central London

Skype is looking to hire a Communications Counsel to:

- give legal/regulatory advice on the development, commercialisation and marketing of Skype's global communications products.
- negotiate and draft various types of agreements with our communications service providers
- give general legal advice to product management, business development, carrier relations, PR and marketing teams
- manage and supervise the implementation of agreed compliance measures
- drafting user terms and conditions for new communication products

To succeed in this role, you must have a commercial outlook and an excellent understanding and experience of the telecommunications legal and regulatory framework within the EU.

The ideal candidate will have between 3-6 years communications experience, with preferably some previous in-house experience. Due to the global nature of Skype's products, international experience and language skills are also preferred.

Candidates will be selected on the basis of their relevant skills and experience. Where we have stated a minimum or maximum level of qualification, candidates who wish to apply are welcome to do so and will be considered on an equal basis where they can demonstrate equivalent levels of skills and experience.
